Interview Guidelines
Interview Guidelines

- An interview is an important element in the selection of the most qualified candidate for a position.

- Objectives of an Effective Interviews:
  - The gathering of information which reasonably might predict the ability of a candidate to perform in the position.
  - Providing each candidate with a realistic picture of the job for which they have applied.

- Objectives cont...
  - Assuring each candidate that she/he has received an unbiased, thorough and unhurried opportunity to present his/her qualifications for the position under consideration.
  - Provide all candidates with a positive image of Butte-Glenn Community College – creating a desire to accept the job, if offered, to the candidate.

- In developing questions, the committee must be able to distinguish an applicant's ability to do the job from their ability to get the job.
- Shift the focus from experience to results:
  - Job performance in a former position, accomplishments, and productivity.
  - Be less concerned with years of experience and more concerned with what they have done.
  - Past performance is the best predictor of future performance.
Interviews, cont...

- Interview Questions need to be Behavioral based.
  - Create questions that make the candidate tell the committee about specific work experience and their professional accomplishments.
- Ask questions that allow candidates to present their strong points.
- Ask questions which explore the candidates' knowledge and sensitivity to issues of diversity.
Unlawful Pre-employment Inquiries/Questions

- Race/ethnicity
- Religion/creed
- National origin/ancestry
- Sexual orientation
- Gender
- Disability
- Age

If applicants offer information related to any of the above, committee members need to redirect the candidate.
Prior to the First Interview:

- The committee should take about 30 minutes to collectively:
  - Review the job announcement.
  - Assign questions to committee members.
  - Review general framework for successful responses to individual questions.
  - Prior to each interview, the committee should briefly review the candidate’s application.
Rules for Interviews

- Be fair, consistent, and impartial in your assessment and scoring.
- Write down as much specific information as possible that weighs into your score value.
- Do not draw on your interview sheet or write down non-relevant information like: did not comb hair or cologne or perfume issues, because those do not relate to the candidate’s ability to do the job.
- Be professional, courteous, and attentive at all times recognizing that you represent the college.
- Time check.
Follow-up Questions

- Any committee member may ask a follow-up question to a candidate, provided it meets the following criteria:
  - The question must be directly related in some way to the original question.
  - The question must be directly related to something contained in their answer.

Follow-up questions allow you to probe for specificity. This helps to minimize exaggerations and limit generalizations. Such questions should NOT lead to the desired responses.
Follow-up Question Example

- Assuming the candidate’s answer contained:

  “… I taught both high school and college courses.”

  An appropriate follow-up question would be:

  “What courses did you teach?”
Questions from Candidates

- If candidates ask questions of the committee, responses to these inquiries need to be consistent from candidate to candidate.
- The committee chair will either answer, or direct another committee member to answer, all candidate questions.
What to do Between Interviews

- Complete your notes on each candidate.
- Never share personal or professional experiences involving candidates. This can create bias and influence the judgments of other committee members. You also subject yourself to personal liabilities (You may only use the application materials and interview in assessing each candidate).
Selecting Finalists

- Assess the strengths and weaknesses of each applicant.
- Use a consensus approach to forwarding finalists.
- Faculty finalists are ranked. Classified finalists are not ranked – a minimum of three candidates are recommended for hiring consideration.
- Remember: You are not hiring the individual; you are recommending the finalists for hiring consideration.
Reference Checks

- The Recommending Administrator, or designee, will conduct reference checks.
Confidentiality

The recruitment/hiring process is a highly sensitive and confidential process. It is critical that all selection committee members, and those associated with this activity, maintain the highest degree of confidentiality in order to preserve the integrity of the process.

Failure to maintain confidentiality may result in personnel action taken against you.
